President's Message

Welcome to our December edition of the Washington Connection!

In December we continued with our monthly luncheon series. This month we had the honor to have Mr. Tim Soltis, Deputy Controller, Office of Management and Budget, as our guest speaker. Mr. Soltis gave an engaging presentation to a sell-out audience on the President's Management Agenda. So, don't miss our January luncheon scheduled at the Hamilton on January 16, 2019!

During the last couple of months our Chapter's committees have been working hard putting together a number of training and networking events to continue to engage and serve our members and the federal government community at large. Below is list of events for the upcoming months:

- AGA DC Holiday Happy Hour on January 3, 2019
- AGA DC Member Services 2019 Hockey Game on January 14, 2019
- Federal Accounting Research Workshop – We have two events planned: January 29, 2019 and February 21, 2019
- Junior Achievement of Greater Washington on January 31, 2019

Also, our Education Committee has been working hard planning our 18th Annual DC Chapter Financial Management Training. This is a great opportunity to hear firsthand from government leaders about the issues impacting Federal financial management and related functions. As is our tradition, we offer ethics training that meets Virginia CPA requirements and can be applied to DC and Maryland requirements. Also, this training provides excellent networking opportunities are offered at the sponsor booths and happy hour reception. Breakfast, lunch, break refreshments and happy hour reception are included in your registration. Space is limited so reserve your attendance now as this event sells out.

I would like to thank all our committee members for their continued efforts and commitment to our Chapter, as well as, I want to thank our Corporate Sponsors for enabling the DC Chapter to provide the Chapter's many educational and other member services.

Happy Holidays!

Jorge Asef-Sargent, 2018/2019 AGA
Washington DC Chapter President

AGA DC Vintage Newsletter Scavenger Hunt - Win Cash Prizes!

As you can see on the “Newsletters” section of the AGA DC Website, we have a very impressive historical collection of AGA DC Newsletters. But our newsletter collection is still incomplete! So, our Chapter has authorized me to run a contest to see if our members can come up with some of the missing newsletters.

At the March 2019 luncheon, we plan to present two cash prizes

- A $100 gift card for providing the oldest missing vintage newsletter, and
- A $50 gift card for providing the largest number of missing vintage newsletters.

Here are the Newsletters that we’re missing, in reverse chronological order:*

- 2012-2013 Program Year: Missing December 2012, January 2013, February 2013, and March 2013
- 2007-2008 Program Year: Missing January 2008 and February 2008
- 2006-2007 Program Year: Missing November 2006, March 2007, April 2007, May 2007, and June 2007
- 2003-2004 Program Year: Missing September 2003, November 2003, and December 2003
- 1995-1996 Program Year: Missing December 1995, January 1996, March 1996, April 1996, May 1996 and June 1996
- September 1950- June 1990: Missing all newsletters, except for three: October 1986, May 1984 and July 1962.

* For Program Years 2013-2014, 2014-2015, and 2015-2016, there appear to have been gaps in newsletter publication; we’re not aware of missing newsletters – but please let us know if we’re mistaken!

To enter the contest, please e-mail a scanned copy of the newsletter(s) to Eileen at:

parlowe@sec.gov. Vintage DC Chapter newsletters are a priceless resource for current and future chapter members and historians. Thank you in advance for taking the time to look through your old files and participate in this contest.

- Eileen Parlow, Past Chapter President and Historian

CGFM Committee Update - by Wendy Allen

Make this the year you get it done!

As we reflect on the upcoming new year, and our personal and professional goals, be sure to add obtaining the CGFM certification to your list. You will not regret it! The certification is a great way to demonstrate your commitment and dedication to the industry, and can afford you new and exciting opportunities! Learn more by checking out the AGA CGFM video at this link.

The AGA DC chapter CGFM Committee continues to support our members by providing the following:

- ◆ Exam Rebate Initiative – Take the exam and pass it and we will reimburse you the cost of your exams! You must submit the passing certification per module in order to qualify for the rebate. Cost of each exam is $125! We only have a limited amount of rebates available so make this a new year’s resolution to pass! You must submit the following information to qualify: Copy of passing certification, Proof of payment, Mailing address & AGA member number.
- ◆ Loaner Study Guides/Practice Exams – AGA DC continues to provide electronic versions of the study guides and practice exams to our AGA members on a short-term loaner basis. Several members have already taken advantage of this great benefit! Contact Shawn Syed at shawn.syed@syedandassociates.com if you are interested (available on a first come first served basis).
- ◆ Training Opportunities - AGA National continues to offer the CGFM Intensive Review Course (IRC), the cost of which INCLUDES the exams! The next IRC, offering up to 18 CPEs, will be held in Arlington, Virginia, April 1-2, 2019. Cost is $350 for AGA members. Just in case you missed it, yes, the CGFM examinations are offered at no additional cost to course attendees—a $375 savings! For additional information click here.

Congratulations To Our New CGFMs!

Congratulations to our members who became new CGFMs since August! You should be very proud of your accomplishment!

Federal Accounting Research Workshops

Registration Opens November 5, 2018 to be provided by AGA DC Chapter

Are you interested in developing, improving, or refining your federal accounting research skills? AGA DC chapter members Alan Perry and Monica Valentine are excited to offer a new, 4-NASBA-CPE training workshop for local AGA chapter members on January 29th and February 21st free of charge. In this interactive, activity-based course participants will:

1. gain a working knowledge of methods, approaches, and tools for efficiently researching and understanding federal accounting standards,
2. learn how to use accounting standards and research as a basis to help improve financial reporting and resolve outstanding or emerging accounting issues at their agencies, and
3. by working in teams on case studies, gain an appreciation for and understanding of key considerations and challenges that are often encountered in public sector accounting and auditing.

Alan and Monica are promising challenging group case studies, fun activities and class discussions, as well as some entertaining Bitmojis in their slide deck. You won't want to miss it.

Be sure to register early! There are only 32 seats available for each class!

Changes in the Statement of Budgetary Resources

Background

The Statement of Budgetary Resources (SBR) for FY2019 is considerably shorter than the FY2018, but more complicated.

Beginning Balance

The primary change in Section 1 Budgetary Resources is that the beginning balance and changes to the beginning balance are merged into line 1051 Unobligated balance from prior year budget authority. Previously, line 1051 had been a total of four lines, but now it is calculated based on account balances. However, three of those lines, 1020 Adjustment to unobligated balance brought forward, 1021 Recoveries of prior year unpaid obligations, and 1043 Other changes in unobligated balance, are now combined into a memorandum line 1980 Net Adjustments to Unobligated Balance Brought Forward. The balance of 1980 plus last year's line 1000 Unobligated Balance Brought Forward is the new balance for line 1051.

Combining these lines may simplify the SBR presentation, but it complicates the compilation, because these lines include some very different balances. One can't just create the balance of new line 1051 by using the balances of all the Standard General Ledger (SGL) accounts listed by Treasury, because many of these account balances are reported on other lines, and this will lead to double counting. Instead, the new line will need the three types of balances that had previously been reported on separate lines:

1. Beginning balances (old line 1000): The report is set up so that the total of sections 1 and 2 should agree. Most accounts only report their activity for the year. Available authority accounts (SGL 442000 through 472000) report their ending balances in section 2, and their beginning balances have to be reported in section 1 as an offset. Because most of these accounts close at year end, the only SGL accounts in this series that should have beginning balances are 445000 Unapportioned Authority, 462000 Unobligated Funds Exempt from Apportionment, and 465000 Allotments - Expired Authority. I prefer to take the beginning credit balances of the available accounts and flip the sign so they display as a positive number. Treasury recommends taking the beginning net debit balances of all other budgetary accounts and back into the available amount.
2. Prior-Year Adjustment Activity (old line 1020): Postings in any account other than the available authority and transfers of obligations and reimbursements where the Prior-Year Adjustment Code is B or P.

Inside The Black Box

by Simcha Kuritzky, CGFM, CPA

3. Normal Adjustment Activity (old lines 1021 and 1043): Any activity in the following SGL accounts where the Prior-Year Adjustment Code is X. These accounts' balances are not reported elsewhere in sections 1 or 2: 404800, 411601, 413400, 414400, 414700, 415200, 417600, 418000, 419000 thru 419200, 419700 thru 419900, 429500, 432000 thru 436000, 438500, 439600, 439701, 439900, 487100, 487200, 497100, and 497200.

This would also include only debit balances of 431000 Anticipated Recoveries of Prior-Year Obligations, because credit balances are reported on line 2404 Unapportioned, unexpired accounts.

This also means that the activity of only a few SGL accounts is excluded from SBR sections 1 and 2. Ignoring the accounts exclusive to the International Monetary Fund, these are the accounts associated with nonexpenditure transfers of budgetary resources: 408100 through 408300, 419500, 423000 through 423400, 483100, 483200, and 493100; as well as 414500 Borrowing Authority Converted to Cash and its offset account 414800 Resources Realized from Borrowing Authority.

Change in obligated balance

Section 3 of the SBR has been removed in its entirety. Lines 3000 thru 3200 are no longer needed.

Budget authority and outlays, net

Section 4 of the SBR has been drastically reduced to three lines, only one of which can be calculated directly from SGL balances. The old line 4190 Outlays, net was the sum of lines 4185 Outlays, gross and 4187 Actual offsetting collections. Fortunately, the new line 4190 just sums the balances of the same accounts, which basically are all cash budgetary accounts from 421200 through 498200, except for the withdrawal accounts of the 435000 through 439900 series, and the transfer accounts 423100 Unfilled Customer Orders with Advance – Transferred and 483200 Undelivered Orders - Obligations Transferred, Prepaid/Advanced.

Conclusion

This new format is already in force, though it's possible to fake it by producing the old format and cutting out the lines that are no longer reported. If your agency hasn't updated your SBR definition, now is the time to do it.
