

Randy Travis

Randy Travis joined WAGA in 1990 as a reporter. In 1994, after the station changed from CBS to FOX, Randy became an investigative reporter for the FOX 5 I-Team. Since then, his stories have closed down businesses that misled the public, exposed government waste and corruption and ultimately led to criminal prosecutions that sent people to prison. Randy retired from FOX 5 Atlanta in June 2024.

Before joining FOX 5, Randy was a reporter for WMC-TV in Memphis, TN., WYFF-TV in Greenville, SC and WMAZ-TV in Macon. He also worked as a newspaper sportswriter in his hometown of Athens from 1979 until graduating from the University of Georgia in 1982 with a journalism degree focusing on broadcast news.

Randy is an avid marathon runner and has competed in every Peachtree Road Race since 1993. He's also a lifelong Falcons and Braves fan, two of the very few things in the world that routinely make him cry.

Wendi Raley

Wendi has been employed with the Georgia Bureau of Investigation since January of 1998 and was promoted to the position of Auditor Manager in 2015. As a Forensic Auditor with the GBI, Wendi uses accounting, auditing, computer, and investigative skills to assist in examining financial evidence of alleged crimes as requested by District Attorneys and Law Enforcement Agencies.

In addition to managing and training the auditors of FIU, she assists with cases and case consults. She teaches Basic Financial Investigation Techniques as a portion of several courses provided by the Georgia Police and Fire Academies at the Georgia Public Safety Training Center and as a portion of the Basic Agent class for GBI. She participates in financial investigation work groups and provides various financial investigation related presentations when requested.

Prior to her employment at the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, she was a Tax Field Agent with Georgia Department of Revenue where her duties included income and sales tax return preparation, audits, billing, and collections.

Robert Balsam

Robert Balsam is a native of Georgia and has been employed as a Forensic Auditor by the Georgia Bureau of Investigation's Financial Investigations Unit for more than 24 years. Robert has worked with numerous city, county, state, and federal law enforcement agencies by investigating and assisting with the prosecution of complex financial crime cases. As a Forensic Auditor, Robert has testified at trial in federal court in the Middle and Southern Districts of Georgia and presented forensic audit results to numerous grand juries and courts throughout Georgia.

Additionally, Robert served in the military for 26 years. As a Cryptologic Technician in the U.S. Navy and U.S Navy Reserve, Robert served with sea and shore commands in administrative, operational, and unit leadership positions.

Attending Clayton College and State University in Morrow, Georgia on the GI Bill and Hope Scholarship, Robert majored in accounting and was awarded a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in 1998. Robert completed his Certified Fraud Examiner certification in 2002.

Mitchell Bruce

Mitchell is the supervisory forensic accountant for the FBI, Atlanta Division. He received his master's degree in accountancy from Utah State University and worked as a tax associate with a small regional firm in Logan Utah before starting with the bureau in Salt Lake City in 2018. Mitchell is a CPA, CFE and a member of the Virtual Currency Response Team. He has largely focused on criminal casework with an expertise in cryptocurrency and financial tracing. When not in the office, Mitchell enjoys spending time with his wife and two young kids or cycling up in the mountains.

Lisa Andre

During her twenty-four years of employment with the Bureau of the Fiscal Service, Lisa's role has included leadership of post payment exceptions, federal agency and financial industry outreach, delivery of payment integrity services, legacy post payment applications (PACER, TCIS, etc.), IT security, Payment/Post Payment accounting and oversight of the Philadelphia location.

In 2024, she assumed the role of Director of the Office of Payment Integrity (OPI), which brings legacy Do Not Pay Business Center and legacy Payment Integrity Center of Excellence together into a single organization focused on the prevention of fraud and improper payments in federal government and federally funded state-administrated programs.

In 2007, Lisa became a National Automated Clearing House Association (NACHA) Accredited ACH Professional (AAP). Lisa is a 2001 graduate of Holy Family University in Philadelphia.

Bayley Towner

Bayley Towner is the Manager of the Customer Engagement and Support Branch, Office of Payment Integrity, Bureau of the Fiscal Service, Department of the Treasury. She is approaching the 10-year mark in federal government and began her career as part-time intern in the Travel Services Division. Having spent most of her career in accounting at Fiscal Service, Bayley was happy to make the transition to the front lines to combat improper payments and fraud. She holds a Bachelor of Applied Science-Financial Management degree and a Bachelor of Science-Accounting degree from West Virginia University at Parkersburg. She is currently enrolled in the Forensic Accounting and Fraud Examination Graduate curricula at WVU.

Dean Campbell

Dean Campbell is an Assistant Director with GAO's Forensic Audits and Investigative Service (FAIS) team. He has conducted forensic audits focused on fraud in areas including disaster assistance and veteran's care. Prior to joining GAO, Mr. Campbell was a consultant in the public sector and an accountant in Silicon Valley. He earned a master's degree in Public Policy at Georgetown University and a bachelor's degree in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics at Pomona College.

Dana R. Hermanson

Dana R. Hermanson is Dinos Eminent Scholar Chair of Private Enterprise and Professor of Accounting at Kennesaw State University. He was recognized in the BYU Accounting Research Rankings as the 19th most prolific researcher in accounting from 1990-2023. Dana received the 2020 Outstanding Auditing Educator Award from the American Accounting Association. Dana worked with David Wolfe to introduce the Fraud Diamond as a new model to explain fraud, and he has coauthored two COSO-sponsored studies of fraudulent financial reporting. Dana received his BBA in accounting from the University of Georgia and his Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin. He began his career as an auditor with Ernst & Whinney.

Gillian Rose McDuffie

Gillian Rose McDuffie is currently a Staff Accountant at a Big Four Accounting Firm. She received her BBA and Masters in Accounting from Kennesaw State University. She worked on and published two accounting research papers during her time at Kennesaw State University. She was recognized as the Kennesaw State University PCAOB Scholar in 2022. Additionally, she was selected as the Outstanding Student representative for the 2022 Regents' Academic Recognitions Award and was the 2021 Coles College nominee for this honor.