I'm Matt. I vividly remember the moment when someone told me about a company called People Centric. The more I explored the company and its culture, the more I realized it would be a great fit for my skillset.

I was comfortable in my previous work as a facilitator for JP Morgan Chase. I had been there for 15 years and secure. I could have stayed there until retirement. However, I was intrigued by this new opportunity – particularly the platform to help organizations and leaders reach the goals they had set for themselves. Whatever industry, whatever organization, whatever state your company is located in, I simply want to help you achieve greatness at a higher level.

I am married with kids...five kids! They keep my wife and I busy, yet extremely enjoyable. We are avid sports fans and love to compete.

My best advice that I give to people is this: "Everyone is a leader, lead them well".

If you'd like to learn more about being the best leader you can be, let me know!
